Wow events are brilliant. It is great when I can get time off from work to attend, would still like these in school time.

I think school are doing a pretty good job already. As long as I know exactly what is expected of... and how I can help I'm good.

It would be great to sit in a lesson especially on one of there more difficult subjects. I really like the days when there is parental help, as ways of teaching have changed so much. Looking forward to the maths day.

Opportunity to see work.

To work in a guided session. X3

Work with child especially where homework will be next.

I would like to join in a lesson. See what she is learning and how she is with others.

Football club. ... really enjoyed the swimming at Woodhall Spa. Some examples may be beneficial for the learning points in class 2 reading journal.

A short lesson with the children to learn the way they are taught in school. A little bit like a stay and play learning what they do with you.

If my child is learning a specific times table it would be helpful as could focus on that at home too – otherwise there is always lots of information on the class website to inform our knowledge of their learning.

Work with my child in a guided session organized by the teacher.

Maths or Literacy

More information on reading scheme/ability/help to support ...

An update on literacy and what is required from children in their writing. An explanation of the terms used in Literacy and what they need to understand/include.

Guided session, wow events, maths session. To know the routine of the class so I can help ... when she gets home.

Anything

Anything that would be beneficial I am happy to attend. It is also nice for me to see what techniques are used at school for learning – it helps me to achieve more at home. Ideas for keeping your child interested in completing homework would be helpful. He's usually had enough by the time he gets home!

Lovely to be able to attend wow events where you can work with your child – the sharing helps develop bonds and confidence and helps them to feel important.

Working with ... would be lovely. It would also be nice if the school had a band comprising of teachers, parents and children.

Working with children in a guided session organized by the teacher, especially getting messy! But also maybe a guided session with older year groups doing topic research, maths, literacy input.

Anything at all phonics, maths, any normal lesson, art etc. We just like being involved as does ... like it she gets so excited when we get to go.

Reading, maths, cooking crafts

Wow events are great but always during the working day, we always manage to attend but at a cost.
